1. Two conferences on overseas Chinese affairs were held in Canton in early August 1950. [REDACTED] the South China branches of the Democratic League, the Kuomintang Revolutionary Committee, the National Democratic Reconstruction Association, the Chih Kung Tang, and the Communist South China Sub-Bureau held a joint conference. They were joined from [REDACTED] by representatives of the Communist Overseas Chinese Affairs Committee and of overseas Chinese groups from the South Seas area. Altogether, 120 persons attended. 25X1A
2. YEH Chien-ying (葉劍英),* governor of Kwangtung, and JAO Chang-feng (饒彰風),* head of the United Front of the South China Sub-Bureau attended the meetings and issued general instructions.
3. The conference arrived at the following decision on activities:
- To expand work by all parties among the overseas Chinese communities and organizations outside China.
 - To take underground all activities of these parties in foreign countries.
 - To increase counter-espionage work.
 - To increase and exploit differences between native peoples and the British, American, French and Dutch imperialists in the South Seas region.
 - To increase and exploit differences among the British, Americans, French, and Dutch.
- 25X1A Comment. YEH Chien-ying has been previously reported as concerned with overseas affairs, particularly in Indochina and Southeast Asia. JAO Chang-feng, earlier reported as chief of the South China Bureau's United Front and as public relations officer in Canton, has been engaged in screening and in training work in South China. 25X1A
- 25X1A Comment. Chinese Communist interest in overseas elements is evident from the large amount of material devoted to overseas topics in radio broadcasts.
